THE TRIBUNE.

Punishments in the Navy.

To the Editor of the Tribune : In your paper of this morning a piece appeared under the head of "Reform in the Navy," which is calculated to prejudice the mind of the Public against this most important arm of our National Defence. It was most evidently written by a person who knew nothing of the subject, for he proposed that "Midshipmen shall hereafter be made from the Apprentices." If that was the case, we could boust-our officers composed of the very that she shall always call me by my Christian name, dregs of the country, and our Navy a disgrace to America.

He also states: "The officer first steps on board a National vessel a Midshipman, bearing a waraant from the Government-a warrant for tyranny ever, and abuse of the helpless slaves of this atrocious system." Is this correct? Is our Secretary a tyrant, that he gives a warrant for the exercise of undue authority? No, sir, it is far from being correct: no such warrant is given; no such power is allowed to be exercised; and by such an assertion our "Naval Commanders" (those who have fought and bled for the welfare of their country) are declared tyrants.

Who is there that can accuse Decatur, Bainbridge or Perry of having been tyrants? Was it tyranny to humble proud England? Was it tyranny to soar our glorious stars and stripes above her bloody cross? If it was, God grant that such tyranny may ever last in this country, and may the Navy of America be able to boast another Decatur, another Bainbridge, and another Perry, to bear her banner in triumph o'er the deep.

" Fing of the free heart's only home, By angel hands to valor given!

Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.
Forever float that standard sheet!

Where breathes the fee but talls before us, With treedom's soil beneath our feet, And freedom's banner streaming o'er us!"
New York, Jan. 26, 1843. A CONSTANT READER. Remarks by the Editor.

The article complained of above was our own and no one else is responsible for it; but it was based on the experience and narrations and fortified by the judgement of several who have served in the Navy-both as gentlemen and wkipping-

We see very little in this article that needs answering. The same objections were made in France to the selection of officers from the ranks of the Army; yet when had France better armies than those forced under the Republican rule, when merit was the only requisite to rank and promotion? If our Naval Apprentices are now "the dregs of the Country," that affords the best rea son in the world for changing a system which fills the Navy with 'dregs.' Was it with 'the dregs of the Country' that PERRY and BAINBRIDGE won their victories? Never believe it! But let the beating of sailors be stopped, and the monopoly of promotion abolished, and our Sailors and Naval Apprentices would no longer be "the dregs of the Country."

If 'Constant Reader' cannot understand that we oppose an abominable system without accusing any men, particularly, we waste words in talking

THE COLONIZATION SOCIETY .- The Intelligen cer states that the American Colonization Society held its annual meeting in the Hall of the House of Representatives at Washington on the evening of the 18th inst. which was attended by a great number of distinguished men. Rev. JAMES LAURIE, D. D., one of the Vice Presidents, presided, and Mr. Gurley, the Secretary of the Society, presented the Executive Report. Among those who took part in the proceedings of the meeting, we observe the names of Senator Miller of N. J., of Ky., Wise of Va., Mason of Ohio, Mr. Penson, Solicitor of the Treasury, and others. On motion of Rev. Mr. McLain, the Society pledged itself to raise at least $40,000 the present year for great objects, which it is urgently important should be attained, such as the purchase of additional territory, the opening a road to the forests in the rear of the Colony, the removal of sundry emigranta whose claims to the interposition and aid of the Society it is well nigh impossible to resist, and for various other purposes.

BLACKWELL'S ISLAND .- Joseph Keene, Esq. the very popular superintendent of Blackwell' Island, deserves great praise for his benevolent efforrs in behalf of the unfortunate inmates of that establishment. On Tuesday last he made arrangements for that devoted Washingtonian, the Rev. Mr. Balch, who delivered a very able and affecting address, which was crowned with very signal success. Mr. Keene himself, with a number of his assistants, with about 200 of the prisoners, signed the Washingtonian pledge, and on Wednesday evening another meeting was held, which was ably and feelingly addressed by Mr. E. Downes Con nery, of the Prospect, and Mr. William Edmonds. of the Marshall, when about 100 of the prisoners came ferward and signed the pledge. May it not be hoped that the result of these meetings may long be felt in the happy experience of all the parties concerned. [Washingtonian Organ.

We understand that another Washingto nian meeting will be held in the Chapel of the Penitentiary on Wednesday evening next, which will be addressed by Mr. Edmends and others .-Heaven prosper their undertaking!

EXTRAORDINARY MEMORY .- The memory of Dr. Leyden was most tenacious, and he some times loaded it with lumber. When he was at Mysore, an argument occurred upon a point of English history; it was agreed to refer it to Leyden, and, to the astonishment of all parties, he repeated verbatim the whole of an act of Parliament in the reign of James relative to Ireland, which decided the point in dispute. On being asked how he came to charge his memory with such extraordinary matter, he said that several years before, when he was writing on the changes that had taken place is the English language, this act was one of the documents to which he had referred as a speplace is the English language, this act was one of the documents to which he had referred as a specimen of the style of that age, and that he had retained every word in his memory.

Boz's New Work- MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT.'-The first number of Mr. Dickens's new work, Martin Chuzzlewit,' appeared the last day of the year, and has excited a good deal of interest. The opening chapter, desultory and general, is rather weak; but the two chapters which follow contain some vigerous writing, more condensed and episome vigerous writing vigerous vi year, and has excited a good deal of interest. The grammatic than the author's usual style. The hero of the piece, an old misanthropic invalid, has adopted an orphan child, a stranger, in the person ef a young lady about seventeen, his constant companion, to whom he pays a handsome annual allowance, on the understanding, according to Martin's statement, "That no term of affectionate cajolery would indeed have a fine Navy, one of which we shall ever be adopted by either to the other, but and I by hers. She is bound to me by ties of interest; and losing by my death, and having no expectation disappointed, will mourn it, perhaps; out for that I care not.'

The old man, it ought to be premised, being rich, and disgusted with the fawning and servility | 1842. of friends and relatives, who used him for his wealth, has taken a solemn oath never to leave her

He belongs to the Squeers genus, inasmuch as he calls himself "architect and surveyor," though, of his architectural doings, nothing was clearly known, "except that he had never designed or built any thing," but like his prototype, the Yorkshire school-master, almost, if not entirely, confined himself to the reception of pupils in his house. 'His genius lay in ensnaring parents and guardians, and pocketing the premiums. The other characters introduced are-the landlady of the Blue Dragon, near Salisbury, (at whose house Chuzzlewit and the young lady, who are travelling, stop, the old man having been seized with illness on the road;) a smart young fellow, named Wesleck, of one Pecksniff's articled pupils, who had been taken in and done for; an insipid, goed meaning creature named Pinch, who lives with, and acts as clerk to Pecksniff; and the beauties 'Charity and Mercy,' already mentioned. As far as a judgement can be formed of the first numberwhich, by the way, is like judging a house by a single brick-the present work promises to be equal, not superior, to any thing the author has yet produced. There are detached portions of it which for power and graphic effect will bear a comparison with any thing he has ever written. Master Humphrey's Clock damaged the literary reputation of Boz; Martin Chuzzlewit seems likely to raise it.
